FINE ARRAY OF TALENT FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

List of Chief Speakers Announced for Sunday School Meeting

EX-GOV. HANLY COMING

Noted Indiana Orator Secured for Last Day's Session--Cabinets Meet

An array of talented speakers such as has never before graced a Washington County Sunday School convention, headed by ex-Gov. J. Frank Hanley of Indiana has been secured for the annual convention to be held in Charleroi, June 20 and 21. This was announced by Rev. Murray C. Reiter, president of the county association at a joint meeting of the county and district executive cabinets at the First Christian church here Monday evening. Ex-Gov. Hanley has promised to come on the last day of the convention, Friday June 21, and will speak following a men's parade. His subject will be "The Irrepressible Conflict."

Other speakers who have been engaged are: Dr. W. E. McCullogh, of Pittsburg, a noted Presbyterian minister; W. D. Stem, a State Sunday School field worker; Mrs. M. J. Baldwin, the State elementary superintendent and Dr. W. B. Smiley, a Sunday School worker of the Presbyterian denomination at large. Rev. Reiter and the program committee of the county association are making efforts to secure other speakers in addition to these named.

The county cabinet held a meeting in the afternoon Monday and devoted a large part of their time to incidential maters in preparing for the convention. At 6 o'clock supper was taken at the Christian church with the district executive cabinet, and a meeting was held jointly with the district officers afterwards. At this time various matters that required the attention of the joint committees regarding the coming convention were discussed.

The supper was prepared by the women of the Christian church at the suggestion of J. D. Beryman, a member of the district committee. They were tendered a unanimous vote of thanks for their efforts.

Officers of the county executive cabinet and superintendents of departments present were: Rev. Murray C. Reiter, Canonsburg, president; W. E. McFall, Charleroi, vice president; Mrs. Mary L. Stewart, Washington, field secretary; Rev. G. G. Kerr, Canonsburg, superintendent second division; Miss Francis Cooper; superintendent elementary department; Miss Jennie Pollock, Canonsburg, superintendent home department; Wilhelm F. Alton, Monongahela, superintendent Adult Bible Class work; Four district presidents attended, Rev. Earl Lindsay of Scenery Hill; Prof. H. H. Saylor of California; George P. One Man Nearly Looses Ear in Melee Which Occurs From Unknown Causes

Tenth street got in the limelight Monday night when a fight from causes unknown occurred among six Polish residents at about 10:30 o'clock. During the melee it is stated Steve Consumski had his left ear chopped with a penknife, which he claims was wielded by John Solaskie. Patrolmen Gust Brickner and James Murphy arrested the disturbers. Solaski is being held at the lockup. The remainder were let out upon the payment of forfeits. All are young fellows. They will be given a hearing before Burgess George W. Risbeck.

COKE WORKS FEATURE

That unusual interest is felt in the first Monongahela Valley Electrical show is now in progress on the opening night Monday. The hall was open from 7 to 10 o'clock. Displays of the different firms illustrating the uses of electricity, all arranged under the auspices of the West Penn Electric company proved highly entertaining and educational.

Perhaps the display that attracted the most attention was one arranged by B. E. Getchell, superintendent of the meter department of the West Penn Electric company. This was a small model coke plant in operation. It was operated by electricity. Local firms which have displays are Regan & Hormell which are combining with the Monessen Plumbing and Electric company in a show of electrical chandeliers, globes and so forth, S. L. Woodward, who has a Columbiana Graphophone and an electric player piano, A. D. Spencer, the Macbeth Evans Glass company, the West Penn Electric company and R. L. Barnhart.

STATEMENT OF BONDS

Resolutions for North Charleroi School Debt Filed

MONEY FOR BUILDING

Statements and resolutions of the proper officials of the borough of North Charleroi have been filed at Washington with W. S. Lockhart, clerk of courts in the matter of an increase of indebtedness of the school district of that borough. They were filed by David M. McCloskey, Esq.

The statement signed by C. A. Metz, president of the school board and S. W. Sharpneck its secretary set forth that the district is one of the fourth class and asks that the bonded indebtedness of the district be increased for the purpose of erecting and equipping a new school building by selling bonds under the Act of April 20, 1874 to the amount of $24,000. The total value of the assessed property in this district is $385,225. Seven per cent of this amount would be $26,965.75 considerably more than the amount being asked by the school board. This district has no debt of any kind at this time.

At the public election held September 9, 1911, the residents of this borough voted in favor of this indebtedness. The bonds numbering from one to 24 are of the $1,000 denomination and will fall due as follows: The first five, April 1, 1922; the next eight April 1 1932, and the remaining eleven bonds will fall due April 1, 1941. All bear interest at five per cent. An extra tax will be levied in the district of $1,816 for the payment of the interest and State tax on these bonds. The treasurer of the school board is to sell the bonds for at least par and accrued interest. The school building is already nearly completed.

GLANCING BULLET HITS FLEEING MAN

Fleeing from Constable George Eckman at Fayette City from whom he had broken away, it is stated, Charles Damyan received bullet wounds in the fleshy parts of his arm and his breast Monday. Constable Eckman arrested Damyan and John Dirviner for breaking furniture at the home of Mike Malner, at Gillespie. On the way to the lockup Damyan escaped from the officer and started on a run for shelter. Constable Eckman it is stated drew his gun and fired two shots towards the ground thinking the sound of them would cause the man to halt. One of the shots glanced on a stone, striking Damyan. He was removed to the McKeesport hospital. He is not seriously injured. Dirviner is being held charged with disorderly conduct.

HAS FINE CAREER AS CIVIC WORKER

John Marron, the distinguished Pittsburg attorney who lectures in School Hall Thursday night on "Civic Righteousness" under the auspices of the Charleroi Council of the Knights of Columbus, has had a stirring career as a reformer, and began the work in Pittsburg years ago before the public conscience was so thoroughly aroused against public evils, and municipal misrule as it is today. Indeed Mr. Marron may be said to be one of the pioneers in the regeneration of greater Pittsburg, which is now making rapid progress in that direction.

First of all, Mr. Marron is essentially a fighter. It was never his disposition to sit idly by and see things breaking badly around him, and this was the incentive that early impelled him into the fight for civic righteousness. He was born in Pittsburg 55 years ago, and has been before the Allegheny county bar for 34 years. From his "butting in" proclivities when things were going wrong morally and socially in his community, he became a member of the National Civil Service Association, and the National Municipal League. Locally he was ever active and vigilant,

Poor Directors Making Effort to Have Controller Pay Over Money

Friday at 10 o'clock a. m. has been agreed upon as the time for the hearing in the case of R. W. Wolfe, H. D. Browneller and R. C. Buchanan, poor directors against Controller John H. Moffitt, involving a question of the salary to be paid R. C. Buchanan.

Controller Moffitt refused to honor requisitions for certain amounts for the County and Children's homes because the itemized statements accom- amounts for salary for R. C. Buchanan. The controller holds that Poor Director Buchanan is not entitled to the increase in salary for poor directors, as the law was passed while he, Mr. Buchanan was holding office.

Births in County Nearly Twice the Number of Deaths

STATISTICS FOR YEAR

There was a big gain in population in Washington county during the year 1911, acording to a report which has just been issued. County Treasurer Samuel C. Downer has issued vouchers to the various registrars for the registering of the deaths and births during the year. There were 4,624 births and 2,400 deaths.

In the Charleroi district there were 149 deaths and 380 births. This district includes Charleroi, Fallowfield and Twilight, of which Dr. Edwin McKay is the registrar. In North Charleroi of which S. W. Sharpneck is the registrar there were 29 deaths and 31 births. In California there were 167 deaths and 334 births. Sixteen deaths and 28 births occurred in Coal Centre. James W. Collins reported from Speers 13 deaths and 12 births, this being the only district in the county where the number of deaths exceeded the number of births. In Roscoe there were 20 deaths and 53 births. Donora had 132 deaths and 453 births. In Monongahela, Carroll township and Union township there were 313 deaths and 498 births.

District Matter May Reach International Board

MONTHLY REPORT READ

That there will be an immediate probing of the recent referendum election of the Pittsburg district miners was made certain Monday at the district convention in Pittsburg, when the entire question was thrown open again. Delegates during the warm three hours' discussion in Labor Temple, differed only as to method. President Francis Feehan asked that the international executive board of the United Mine Workers be requested to come here at once and take up the investigation. Forces behind the rival candidate for president, Michael Halapy, demanded that an investigation, to begin at once, be undertaken by a committee of the district convention. The vote on the method of investigation will be taken today.

The minority tellers' report, presented by Michael Muraccini of Elizabeth, during the afternoon caused a sensation. It made a number of changes of fraud and said 2,000 protested votes were counted for Feehan, while 800 votes for Halapy that were protested were thrown out.

The minority report, not including the vote of a single local contested by either side, gives Feehan 3,187 and Halapy 4,508 1-2 for president and Van Bittner 3,641 and Charles Pritchard 3,775 1-2 for vive president. For the same office the majority report gave the followng figures: Feehan 5,211; Halapy 4,627 1-2; Feehan's majority 583 1-2. Bittner, 5,354; Pritchard 3,913 1-2; Bittner's majority 1,441 1-2.

There was much discussion as to the method of investigation, some of the delegates insisting that the international executive board should investigate, as it would have to do so eventually anyway, and that further a committee capable of a fair investigation could not be picked in the convention because of the present state of feeling.

Shortly before adjournment President Fehan said he would insist on an investigation. The constitution, he said, placed the election of officials in the hands of the membership; it was represented in the referendum vote there was nothing in the laws of the union permitting the convention to touch the ballot box.

Monday morning the convention grouped resolutions affecting the National Civic Federation, Boy Scouts, and Pennsylvania constabulary and condemned all three. Delegates voted down a resolution to have checkweighmen at mines chosen by committees of local unions acting with district or international officials. Local unions now name checkweighmen. A resolution to declare strikes at all mines of a company when there is a strike at one mine was referred to the committee. To the district scale committee was referred the dispute over use of safety lamps where electricity is used

MATTHEWS AND AIKEN

The Twenty-fourth congressional district has been the scene of many memorable contests, says the Washington Record.

Charles Matthews is seeking reelection after having served but a single term. Matthews is a progressive Republican fully in sympathy with the policies of his party. He has never swerved in his loyalty to that party. He has steadfastly refused to place himself in a position where he could not support the nominee of the national Republican convention; whether that nominee be Col. Roosevelt or Mr. Taft.

Opposing him as a candidate for the nomination is Attorney Robert K. Aiken of New Castle, who has for many years attempted to dictate the affairs of the party in Lawrence county That he has not been able to do so has been a source of bitterness to him. He is consumed with a personal ambition and has not hesitated to make strange political bedfellows in order to accomplish his ends. His bolt of the ticket six years ago is an example. Ernest F. Acheson was the Republican nominee. Many earnest Republicans did not believe that Mr. Acheson truly represented the district and supported Mr. Aiken who had secured the Democratic nomination. Aiken went up and down the district denouncing Acheson in bitter language, yet two years later finds these two—Acheson, the same Acheson who was a devil incarnate in 1906 and Aiken, the same Aiken who exposed the crimes of Acheson—thick as thieves and planning joint control of the Twenty-fourth district.

Friends of Mr. Aiken explained his sudden admiration for Acheson by saying that Acheson had come over to his side. Very likely. It is the side on which are to be found the disappointed office seekers. On this disgruntled formation Mr. Aiken is building his hopes.

There is utterly no reason for Mr. Aiken's candidacy other than that he craves the office. Mr. Matthews has served his district faithfully and well. By custom as well as all rules of common decency, he is entitled to another term.

AGITATION AFFECTS BUSINESS.

"I believe that existing conditions at the present time call on business men to think, speak and act in view of the danger threatening mercantile business and the manufacturing business dependent upon good times, as well as working men, if employments are reduced by less work," says John Wanamaker.

"There is now not enough employment for all who are willing to work and whatever hinders prosperity always shuts down looms and lessens the opportunities for labor.

"The world's markets invariably narrow in uncertainties. There are fewer purchases and per consequence a reduction of production, and either less hours or fewer days work are required.

"A Presidential election always hurts business, but the conditions injected into this next election mean to the country much more than at any time in the past forty years.

"It is the duty of all business men under the peculiar conditions that exist as we aproach the Presidential election to do any service that is open to them, whereby they can exert any influence to conserve the good order and prosperity of our country.

"We have come to a time when the welfare of the people is threatened by strange doctrines, and when the passions and prejudices of the people are being appealed to. I believe that this is a time when the people at large must stop to think and think twice of the consequences to the country, if to the usual questions of the tariff, is added the struggle of those out of office to get into office, and of the large number of seekers for office who have been disappointed and who feel badly used."

DRAWS LESSON FROM LIFE OF GOOD SHEPHERD

In evangelistic services at the First Baptist church Monday evening Rev. D. L. Schultz spoke on the subject of "The Good Shepherd." Several Bible verses were read as reference, showing what a good shepherd was and comparing the love of the Savior with the love of a good shepherd. Rev. Schultz drew lessons from the life of the Good Shepherd of the human race.

Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"If I were to mention names in this article a certain boy would undoubtedly be in for a trouncing," said an up-river resident. "So remembering my own boyhood days, I will omit that part of it. We have, in our little town, here a man who would at any time rather hunt than eat, and not long ago, while sitting at the table, he heard some one say 'Ducks on the river.'

"Springing from his chair, he grabbed the double-barreled shot gun and darted out of the house like a shot. His wife at once began to clear the table, for well she knew it would be time for the next meal before the hunter returned. It was late, very late when the man with the gun came back—his clothes covered with mud, and water. He had chased up and down the river shore, a dozen times sighting the ducks, but never getting close enough for a shot. He was saying things as he hung up the gun, but after a bath and a change of clothing he felt better.

"When his son, a youth of 14, heard that 'dad had been out hunting ducks' he whistled softly to himself and watching for a chance, when his father wasn't loking he quietly took down the gun and inserted two loaded shells to replace those he had used shooting at a tin can earlier in the day."

"The editorial quill driver of the Charleroi Mail has given to the public the correct solution of the vexed problem that looms up today," said former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan. "His theories, if ingrafted into law and properly applied would rob the anarchist and government destroyer of their jobs. Without giving my ideas how it could be applied. I ask every man and woman in Charleroi to get a copy of the Mail of April 8 and read carefully the editorial 'Too Much Competition,' and mail comment on postal card to your Congressman and Senator, with a view of having a law passed that will give everybody a chance in life. If the government can regulate the profit you may make on money, why not on groceries, dry goods, clothing and other necessaries of life?"

TAFT MAKES GOOD LABOR PLEDGES

Administration's Record Squares With Its Promises.

MANY NEW LAWS ENACTED.

Postal Savings Banks, Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability Laws Passed—Eight Hour Law Upheld—Labor Recognized on Commissions.

From the day three years ago when it placed its interests in the keeping of William Howard Taft to this hour labor has critically scanned his every act, and with discriminating mind it is judging him as one who, without clamor or demonstration, has kept the faith. On Sept. 9, 1908, Theodore Roosevelt, then president of the United States, wrote a letter to Conrad Kohrs on the issues of the campaign and, addressing himself to the laboring men, said:

"If there is one body of men more than another whose support I feel I have a right to challenge on behalf of Secretary Taft it is the body of wage-workers of the country. A stancher friend, a fairer and truer representative they cannot find within the borders of the United States. He will do everything in his power for them except to do that which is wrong. He will do wrong for no man and therefore can be trusted by all men."

The workingmen of the country judged Mr. Taft in 1908 by a record of twenty-seven years as a statesman, administrator of national affairs and presidential adviser, and they helped to give him the magnificent majority which put him in the White House. During the three years he has been president his excellent record has been maintained so splendidly that the laboring men have been confirmed in the belief that they never had a better friend in the White House.

The establishment of the postal savings banks, which was recommended by President Taft, was one of the things that organized labor favored. The $16,000,000 now on deposit in these depositories represents the savings of the wage earners.

Taft's Personal Interest.

President Taft approved a law on May 30, 1908, to compensate workmen for injuries received while in the employ of the United States. After the passage of this act a number of workmen in the employ of the federal government were killed, and their families, not being familiar with the provisions of the law, failed to file affidavits within the specified time. The secretary of commerce and labor had no power to set aside the provision of the law and was therefore obliged to disapprove the claims.

The matter was taken up by the president, and he satisfied himself that justice was not being done to the families of the men who had been killed. He sent a special message to congress recommending that a general act be passed allowing all such claimants compensation if their claims were otherwise meritorious. This was an instance that proved the president to be broadminded and anxious to aid the workingmen in any way that he could.

An employers' liability act approved June 11, 1906, was on January 8, 1908, held to be unconstitutional. Another of this sort was passed on April 22, 1908, which as yet has not been tested in the courts. Through the efforts of the president a commission was appointed to make an investigation of the subject of "employers' liability and workmen's compensation."

Labor Men Appointed.

The report of the commission, the evidence taken before it and the draft of the bill prepared as a result of the findings of said commission have been transmitted to congress, accompanied by a special message by President Taft, in which he recommends the passage of the proposed measure. In their deliberations the members of the commission had the benefit of frequent consultations with the president. It is believed the act will stand the test of constitutionality.

In order that the commission might have the benefit of the experience of a practical man President Taft appointed as one of its members Daniel L. Cease, the editor of the Railroad Trainmen's Journal, the official organ of the railroad trainmen. Mr. Cease has devoted the best years of his useful life to the cause of labor. The president also appointed experienced labor men as inspectors under the locomotive boiler inspection law. They were John F. Ensign of Colorado and Frank McManamy of Oregon for chief inspector and assistant chief inspector respectively.

The defects in the present eight hour law have not escaped the attention of President Taft. He has recommended to congress amendments which will make it really effective by "providing that public works shall be construed to include not only buildings and works upon public grounds, but also ships, armor and large guns when manufactured in private yards or factories."

Thirty Years' Service.

With regard to the high cost of living, which increases the burden of the wage earners, President Taft has already taken the initiative that will result in a worldwide inquiry into this problem. He has advocated the assembling of a world's congress to discuss its varied phases and to suggest remedies.

This unparalleled record of thirty years' service to the cause of all the people is deserving of consideration. No charge of broken faith or of broken promises can be made, no hint of departure from the plain path of duty can be laid at the door of William Howard Taft, who without ostentatious display has wisely and fearlessly administered the trust imposed upon him in 1908, when he was elected to his high office by the votes of laboring men.

"It thirsts and burns for distinction; and, if possible, it will have it. Is it unreasonable, then, to expect that some men, possessed of the loftiest genius, coupled with ambition sufficient to push it to the utmost stretch, will at sometime spring up among us? And when such a one does, it will require the people to be united with each other, attached to the government and laws, and generally intelligent, to successfully frustrate his design.

"Distinction will be his paramount object, and although he would as willingly acquire it by doing good as harm, yet nothing left in the way of building up he would sit down boldly to the task of pulling down. Here then is a probable case, highly dangerous."

—From Mr. Lincoln's Speech before the Young Men's Lyceum, Springfield, Ill.

STEEL WAGES HERE HIGHEST

Under the protective tariff, which has built up American Industries and developed American trade, wages paid steel workers in the United States are the highest in the world.

For instance, the labor cost in the United States per ton of tinplate is $22.95; in Wales only $12.75.

Steel workers in this country receive wages greatly in excess of those paid to steel workers in other countries for the same class of work. European workmen do not enjoy the improved and modern conditions enjoyed by those of the United States, such as safety appliances and devices for cooling the mills in summer.

Wages of Tin Workers

The question of wages paid to tinplate workers in this country and in Wales, which country is the home of the tinplate industry, illustrates advantages in this respect that the worker in this country enjoys. The following figures were submitted by President James A. Farrell of the Steel Corporation while testifying before the Stanley Steel Investigating Committee recently:

Roller	$9.76	$4.55
Opener	.42½	.30
Annealer	.87	.66
Pickler	.48	.27½
Cold Roller	.52	.20
Washer	1.55	1.24
White Pickler	.37½	.27
Common Labor	3.32	1.66

It Is Up to Workmen

It is up to the men in the hundreds of mills and shops in the great Pittsburgh District today whether they want four more years of Taft and Protective Tariff, Peace and Plenty, or four years of Somebody Else and Free Trade, Distress and Disaster.

No matter how much dust is raised over other issues, it is the Tariff which is the real issue of the Presidential Campaign this year.

Don't let the dust of Recall of Judges or any other experimental thing blind your eyes.

You know Protective Tariff. It is an old and faithful Friend.

Men of the mills and shops, join in the state-wide movement for the re-election of President Taft and the indorsement of the Republican Party's Policy of Protective Tariff.

Join the Big Taft Club

The Taft Club of Pittsburgh, a powerful organization of several thousand men of all occupations, urges you to go into your primaries next Saturday and for your own good and the material welfare of your family, your community and your nation vote for those delegates from your congressional district to the National Republican Convention and from your district to the State Convention, who are pledged to the support of President Taft.

If you want to join our club, write to W. T. Mossman, Secretary Taft Club of Pittsburgh, and say "Please enroll and publish my name as a vice president of the Taft Club of Pittsburgh." Give your age, your occupation and your mailing address and add a few words of opinion.

Very truly yours,

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best.

Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. This Girl Recovered from Consumption

The makers of Eckman's Alterative, which is doing so much good for Consumptives, are continually in receipt of really wonderful reports of cures brought about solely through the use of this medicine. These reports are always at the command of anyone interested, and many of the writers in their gratitude have suggested that like sufferers write direct and learn what it did for them. Here is one specimen:

421 Second Ave., Aurora, Ill.

"Gentlemen: Pardon me for not writing sooner, but I wanted to see if I would stay cured. I can now truthfully say I am perfectly well. Never felt better in all my life. I wish to express my heartfelt thanks. I never have any pain, no cough, no night sweats, no hay-fever. Since a child of two years I have been ailing with lung trouble, which grew worse as I grew older. At the age of fourteen the doctor said if I could not be sent South, I would surely die of Consumption. Every winter I would be sure to have either Bronchitis, Pleurisy, or Pneumonia. I had Typhoid-Pneumonia one time. I had catarrh of the stomach and bowels and had Hay Fever for the last few years; but have not anything of the kind this year.

"I will answer all letters sent to me, asking a history of my case, from any one suffering from lung trouble."

"I remain with many thanks to you, your grateful friend."

(Signed Affidavit) ETTA PLATH.

Three years later reports still well.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. and a leader in the promotion of civic righteousness.

Twenty-five years ago, when there was not much being said or done publicly in regard to the social evil, Mr. Marron started a crusade against this evil in Pitsburg, which had grown to almost intolerable conditions. Through his efforts in this direction he secured the indictment of the director of public safety, the superintendent of police and the inspector of the "Tenderloin" or "Red Light" district, for malfeasance in office by public toleration of prostitution in Pittsburg. These cases were eventually nol prossed on promise to enforce the law.

Later in another civic movement Mr. Marron prosecuted and convicted the superintendent of police of Allegheny for extortion in the protection of prostitution in Allegheny. He also convicted the commissioner of highways for the same crime and revoked the license of the "official bottler," who had the privilege of furnishing liquor to the disreputable houses. Though his prosecutions a number of persons were convicted of leasing property for immoral purposes, as well as several members of council for aiding and abetting prostitution and gambling. In one day he closed 110 brothels under threat of prosecution. Through his efforts largely, a number of streets and sections in Allegheny devoted to prostitution for many years were cleaned up.

In the celebrated bribery case of the Tube City Railroad company which sought a franchise into Pitts- Mr. Marron prosecuted and convicted a member of council for soliciting a bribe, and he also convicted the president of the road for paying a brige and killed the franchise ordinance which was sought. Another of his celebrated cases was his conviction of "Diamond Bill," a notorious pool room keeper, for enticing a minor for immoral purpose. He also secured another conviction for conspiracy and embracery in an attempt to influence jurors in the "Diamond Bill" case.

Other famous cases of Mr. Marron were his defense and acquittal of the proprietor of the periodical, Justice from the charge of libel in exposing abominable crimes in the Western Penitentiary, his suit against the warden of the Allegheny county jail on a charge of compelling an inmate to attend religious worship in violation of the Bill of Rights and his prosecution which stopped the sale of a foregn newspaper which was libelling religion.

For 40 years Mr. Marron has been a member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society and a member for years of the National Associated Charities. He is also one of the organizers of the National Conference of Catholic Charities and of the Conference of the diocese of Pittsburg.

Perhaps the display that attracted the most attention was one arranged by B. E. Getchell, superintendent of the meter department of the West Penn Electric company. This was a small model coke plant in operation. It was operated by electricity. Statements and resolution[illegible] proper officials of the borough of North Charleroi have been filed at Washington with W. S. Lockhart, clerk of courts in the matter of an increase of indebtedness of the school district of that borough. They were filed by David M McCloskey, Esq.

The statement signed by C. A. Metz, president of the school board and S. W. Sharpneck its secretary set forth that the district is one of the fourth class and asks that the bonded indebtedness of the district be increased for the purpose of erecting and equipping a new school building by selling bonds under the Act of April 20, 1874 to the amount of $24,000. The total value of the assessed property in this district is $385,225. Seven per cent of this amount would be $26,965.75 considerably more than the amount being asked by the school board. This district has no debt of any kind at this time.

At the public election held September 9, 1911, the residents of this borough voted in favor of this indebtedness. The bonds numbering from one to 24 are of the $1,000 denomination and will fall due as follows: The first five, April 1, 1922; the next eight April 1 1932, and the remaining eleven bonds will fall due April 1, 1941. All bear interest at five per cent. An extra tax will be levied in the district of $1,816 for the payment of the interest and State tax on these bonds. The treasurer of the school board is to sell the bonds for at least par and accrued interest. The school building is already nearly completed.

GLANCING BULLET HITS FLEEING MAN

Fleeing from Constable George Eckman at Fayette City from whom he had broken away, it is stated, Charles Damyan received bullet wounds in the fleshy parts of his arm and his breast Monday. Constable Eckman arrested Damyan and John Dirviner for breaking furniture at the home of Mike Malner, at Gillespie. On the way to the lockup Damyan escaped from the officer and started on a run for shelter. Constable Eckman it is stated drew his gun and fired two shots towards the ground thinking the sound of them would cause the man to halt. One of the shots glanced on a stone, striking Damyan. He was removed to the McKeesport hospital. He is not seriously injured. Dirviner is being held charged with disorderly conduct.

HAS FINE CAREER AS CIVIC WORKER

John Marron, the distinguished Pittsburg attorney who lectures in School Hall Thursday night on "Civic Righteousness" under the auspices of the Charleroi Council of the Knights of Columbus, has had a stirring career as a reformer, and began the work in Pittsburg years ago before the public conscience was so thoroughly aroused against public evils, and municipal misrule as it is today Indeed Mr. Marron may be said to be one of the pioneers in the regeneration of greater Pittsburg, which is now making rapid progress in that direction.

First of all, Mr. Marron is essentially a fighter. It was never his disposition to sit idly by and see things breaking badly around him, and this was the incentive that early impelled him into the fight for civic righteousness. He was born in Pittsburg 55 years ago, and has been before the Allegheny county bar for 34 years. From his "butting in" proclivities when things were going wrong morally and socially in his community, he became a member of the National Civil Service Association, and the National Municipal League. Locally he was ever active and vigilant.

WILL INSTITUTE PROBE INTO MINERS' ELECTION

District Matter May Reach International Board

MONTHLY REPORT READ

That there will be an immediate probing of the recent referendum election of the Pittsburg district miners was made certain Monday at the district convention in Pittsburg, when the entire question was thrown open again Delegates during the warm three hours' discussion in Labor Temple, differed only as to method. President Francis Feehan asked that the international executive board of the United Mine Workers be requested to come here at once and take up the investigation Forces behind the rival candidate for president, Michael Halapy, demanded that an investigation, to begin at once, be undertaken by a committee of the district convention. The vote on the method of investigation will be taken today

The minority tellers' report, presented by Michael Mariaccini of Elizabeth, during the afternoon caused a sensation. It made a number of changes of fraud and said 2,000 protested votes were counted for Feehan, while 800 votes for Halapy that were protested were thrown out.

The minority report, not including the vote of a single local contested by either side, gives Feehan 3,187 and Halapy 4,508 1-2 for president and Van Bittner 3,641 and Charles Pritchard 8,775 1-2 for vice president. For the same office the majority report gave the followng figures: Feehan 5,211; Halapy 4.627 1-2; Feehan's majority 583 1-2 Bittner, 5,354; Pritchard 3,913 1-2; Bittner's majority 1,441 1-2.

There was much discussion as to the method of investigation, some of the delegates insisting that the international executive board should investigate, as it would have to do so eventually anyway, and that further a committee capable of a fair investigation could not be picked in the convention because of the present state of feeling.

Shortly before adjournment President Fehan said he would insist on an investigation. The constitution, he said, placed the election of officials in the hands of the membership; it was represented in the referendum vote there was nothing in the laws of the union permitting the convention to touch the ballot box.

Monday morning the convention grouped resolutions affecting the National Civic Federation, Boy Scouts, and Pennsylvania constabulary and condemned all three. Delegates voted down a resolution to have checkweighmen at mines chosen by committees of local unions acting with district or international officials. Local unions now name checkweighmen. A resolution to declare strikes at all mines of a company when there is a strike at one mine was referred to the committee. To the district scale committee was referred the dispute over use of safety lamps where electricity is used

The Twenty-fourth congressional district has been the scene of many memorable contests, says the Washington Record.

Charles Matthews is seeking reelection after having served but a single term. Matthews is a progressive Republican fully in sympathy with the policies of his party. He has never swerved in his loyalty to that party. He has steadfastly refused to place himself in a position where he could not support the nominee of the national Republican convention; whether that nominee be Col. Roosevelt or Mr. Taft.

Opposing him as a candidate for the nomination is Attorney Robert K. Aiken of New Castle, who has for many years attempted to dictate the affairs of the party in Lawrence county That he has not been able to do so has been a source of bitterness to him. He is consumed with a personal ambition and has not hesitated to make strange political bedfellows in order to accomplish his ends His bolt of the ticket six years ago is an example Ernest F Acheson was the Republican nominee. Many earnest Republicans did not believe that Mr. Acheson truly represented the district and supported Mr. Aiken who had secured the Democratic nomination Aiken went up and down the district denouncing Acheson in bitter language. Yet two years later finds these two—Acheson, the same Acheson who was a devil incarnate in 1906 and Aiken, the same Aiken who exposed the crimes of Acheson—thick as thieves and planning joint control of the Twenty-fourth district

Friends of Mr Aiken explained his sudden admiration for Acheson by saying that Acheson had come over to his side Very likely. It is the side on which are to be found the disappointed office seekers. On this disgruntled formation Mr. Aiken is building his hopes.

There is utterly no reason for Mr. Aiken's candidacy other than that he craves the office. Mr. Matthews has served his district faithfully and well. By custom as well as all rules of common decency, he is entitled to another term.

AGITATION AFFECTS BUSINESS.

"I believe that existing conditions at the present time call on business men to think, speak and act in view of the danger threatening mercantile business and the manufacturing business dependent upon good times, as well as working men, if employments are reduced by less work," says John Wanamaker.

"There is now not enough employment for all who are willing to work and whatever hinders prosperity always shuts down looms and lessens the opportunities for labor.

"The world's markets invariably narrow in uncertainties. There are fewer purchases and per consequence a reduction of production, and either less hours or fewer days work are required.

"A Presidential election always hurts business, but the conditions injected into this next election mean to the country much more than at any time in the past forty years

"It is the duty of all business men under the peculiar conditions that exist as we aproach the Presidential election to do any service that is open to them, whereby they can exert any influence to conserve the good order and prosperity of our country.

"We have come to a time when the welfare of the people is threatened by strange doctrines, and when the passions and prejudices of the people are being appealed to. I believe that this is a time when the people at large must stop to think and think twice of the consequences to the country, if to the usual questions of the tariff, is added the struggle of those out of office to get into office, and of the large number of seekers for office who have been disappointed and who feel badly used"

DRAWS LESSON FROM LIFE OF GOOD SHEPHERD

In evangelistic services at the First Baptist church Monday evening Rev. D. L Schultz spoke on the subject of "The Good Shepherd." Several Bible verses were read as reference, showing what a good shepherd was and comparing the love of the Savior with the love of a good shepherd. Rev. Schultz drew lessons from the life of the Good Shepherd of the human race.

I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to your wonderful medicine." —Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for woman's ills known.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"If I were to mention names in this article a certain boy would undoubtedly be in for a trouncing," said an up river resident. 'So remembering my own boyhood days, I will omit that part of it We have, in our little town, here a man who would at any time rather hunt than eat and not long ago, while sitting at the table, he heard some one say 'Ducks on the river'

'Springing from his chair, he grabbed the double-barreled shot gun and darted out of the house like a shot His wife at once began to clear the table, for well she knew it would be time for the next meal before the hunter returned It was late, very late when the man with the gun came back—his clothes covered with mud, and water. He had chased up and down the river shore, a dozen times sighting the ducks, but never getting close enough for a shot. He was saying things as he hung up the gun, but after a bath and a change of clothing he felt better

"When his son, a youth of 14, heard that 'dad had been out hunting ducks' he whistled softly to himself and watching for a chance, when his father wasn't loking he quietly took down the gun and inserted two loaded shells to replace those he had used shooting at a tin can earlier in the day."

"The editorial quill driver of the Charleroi Mail has given to the public the correct solution of the vexed problem that looms up today," said former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan "His theories, if ingrafted into law and properly applied would rob the anarchist and government destroyer of their jobs. Without giving my ideas how it could be applied, I ask every man and woman in Charleroi to get a copy of the Mail of April 8 and read carefully the editorial 'Too Much Competition,' and mail comment on postal card to your Congressman and Senator, with a view of having a law passed that will give everybody a chance in life If the government can regulate the profit you may make on money why not on groceries, dry goods, clothing and other necessaries of life?'

TAFT MAKES GOOD LABOR PLEDGES

Administration's Record Squares with its Promises.

MANY NEW LAWS ENACTED.

Postal Savings Banks, Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability Laws Passed—Eight Hour Law Upheld—Labor Recognized on Commissions.

From the day three years ago when it placed its interests in the keeping of William Howard Taft to this hour labor has critically scanned his every act, and with discriminating mind it is judging him as one who, without clamor or demonstration, has kept the faith. On Sept. 9, 1908, Theodore Roosevelt, then president of the United States, wrote a letter to Conrad Kohrs on the issues of the campaign and, addressing himself to the laboring men, said:

"If there is one body of men more than another whose support I feel I have a right to challenge on behalf of Secretary Taft it is the body of wage-workers of the country. A stancher friend, a fairer and truer representative they cannot find within the borders of the United States. He will do everything in his power for them except to do that which is wrong. He will do wrong for no man and therefore can be trusted by all men."

The workingmen of the country judged Mr. Taft in 1908 by a record of twenty-seven years as a statesman, administrator of national affairs and presidential adviser, and they helped to give him the magnificent majority which put him in the White House. During the three years he has been president his excellent record has been maintained so splendidly that the laboring men have been confirmed in the belief that they never had a better friend in the White House.

The establishment of the postal savings banks, which was recommended by President Taft, was one of the things that organized labor favored. The $16,000,000 now on deposit in these depositories represents the savings of the wage earners.

Taft's Personal Interest.

President Taft approved a law on May 30, 1908, to compensate workmen for injuries received while in the employ of the United States. After the passage of this act a number of workmen in the employ of the federal government were killed, and their families, not being familiar with the provisions of the law, failed to file affidavits within the specified time. The secretary of commerce and labor had no power to set aside the provision of the law and was therefore obliged to disapprove the claims.

The matter was taken up by the president, and he satisfied himself that justice was not being done to the families of the men who had been killed. He sent a special message to congress recommending that a general act be passed allowing all such claimants compensation if their claims were otherwise meritorious. This was an instance that proved the president to be broadminded and anxious to aid the workingmen in any way that he could.

An employers' liability act approved June 11, 1906, was on January 8, 1908, held to be unconstitutional. Another of this sort was passed on April 22, 1908, which as yet has not been tested in the courts. Through the efforts of the president a commission was appointed to make an investigation of the subject of "employers' liability and workmen's compensation."

Labor Men Appointed.

The report of the commission, the evidence taken before it and the draft of the bill prepared as a result of the findings of said commission have been transmitted to congress, accompanied by a special message by President Taft, in which he recommends the passage of the proposed measure. In their [illegible] the members of the commission had the benefit of frequent consultations with the president. It is believed the act will stand the test of constitutionality.

In order that the commission might have the benefit of the experience of a practical man President Taft appointed as one of its members Daniel L. Cease, the editor of the Railroad Trainmen's Journal, the official organ of the railroad trainmen. Mr. Cease has devoted the best years of his useful life to the cause of labor. The president also appointed experienced labor men as inspectors under the locomotive boiler inspection law. They were John F. Ensign of Colorado and Frank McManamy of Oregon for chief inspector and assistant chief inspector respectively.

The defects in the present eight hour law have not escaped the attention of President Taft. He has recommended to congress amendments which will make it really effective by "providing that public works shall be construed to include not only buildings and works upon public grounds, but also ships' armor and large guns when manufactured in private yards or factories."

Thirty Years' Service.

With regard to the high cost of living, which increases the burden of the wage earners, President Taft has already taken the initiative that will result in a worldwide inquiry into this problem. He has advocated the assembling of a world's congress to discuss its varied phases and to suggest remedies.

This unparalleled record of thirty years' service to the cause of all the people is deserving of consideration. No charge of broken faith or of broken promises can be made, no hint of departure from the plain path of duty can be laid at the door of William Howard Taft, who without ostentatious display has wisely and fearlessly administered the trust imposed upon him in 1908, when he was elected to his high office by the votes of laboring men.

"It thirsts and burns for distinction; and, if possible, it will have it. Is it unreasonable, then, to expect that some man, possessed of the loftiest genius, coupled with ambition sufficient to push it to the utmost stretch, will at sometime spring up among us? And when such a one does, it will require the people to be united with each other, attached to the government and laws, and generally intelligent, to successfully frustrate his design.

"Distinction will be his paramount object, and although he would as willingly acquire it by doing good as harm, yet nothing left in the way of building up he would sit down boldly to the task of pulling down. Here then is a probable case, highly dangerous."

STEEL WAGES HERE HIGHEST

Under the protective tariff, which has built up American Industries and developed American trade, wages paid steel workers in the United States are the highest in the world.

For instance, the labor cost in the United States per ton of tinplate is $22.95; in Wales only $12.75.

Steel workers in this country receive wages greatly in excess of those paid to steel workers in other countries for the same class of work. European workmen do not enjoy the improved and modern conditions enjoyed by those of the United States, such as safety appliances and devices for cooling the mills in summer.

Wages of Tin Workers

The question of wages paid to tinplate workers in this country and in Wales, which country is the home of the tinplate industry, illustrates advantages in this respect that the worker in this country enjoys. The following figures were submitted by President James A. Farrell of the Steel Corporation while testifying before the Stanley Steel Investigating Committee recently:

Roller	$9.76	$4.55
Opener	.42½	.30
Annealer	.87	.66
Pickler	.48	.27½
Cold Roller	.52	.20
Washer	1.55	1.24
White Pickler	.37½	.27
Common Labor	3.32	1.66

It Is Up to Workmen

It is up to the men in the hundreds of mills and shops in the great Pittsburgh District today whether they want four more years of Taft and Protective Tariff, Peace and Plenty, or four years of Somebody Else and Free Trade, Distress and Disaster.

No matter how much dust is raised over other issues, it is the Tariff which is the real issue of the Presidential Campaign this year.

Don't let the dust of Recall of Judges or any other experimental thing blind your eyes.

You know Protective Tariff. It is an old and faithful Friend.

Men of the mills and shops, join in the state-wide movement for the re-election of President Taft and the indorsement of the Republican Party's Policy of Protective Tariff.

Join the Big Taft Club

The Taft club of Pittsburgh, a powerful organization of several thousand men of all occupations, urges you to go into your primaries next Saturday and for your own good and the material welfare of your family, your community and your nation vote for those delegates from your congressional district to the National Republican Convention and from your district to the State Convention, who are pledged to the support of President Taft.

If you want to join our club, write to W. T. Mossman, Secretary Taft Club of Pittsburgh, and say "Please enroll and publish my name as a vice-president of the Taft Club of Pittsburgh." Give your name, your occupation and your mailing address and add a few words of opinion.

Very truly yours,

The Taft Club of Pittsburgh

For Women Who Care

Of course you use an antiseptic in your family and in the care of your own person, and you want the best.

Instead of what you have been using such as liquid or tablet antiseptics or peroxide, won't you please try Paxtine, a concentrated antiseptic powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

Paxtine is more economical, more cleansing, more germicidal and more healing than anything you ever used.

Paxtine ANTISEPTIC

In the toilet—to cleanse and whiten the teeth, remove tartar and prevent decay. To disinfect the mouth, destroy disease germs, and purify the breath. To keep artificial teeth and bridgework clean and odorless. To remove nicotine from the teeth and purify the breath after smoking. To eradicate perspiration odors by sponge bathing.

As a medicinal agent for local treatment of feminine ills where pelvic catarrh, inflammation and ulceration exist, nothing equals hot douches of Paxtine. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co. has been regularly advising their patients to use it because of its extraordinary cleansing, healing and germicidal power. For this purpose alone Paxtine is worth its weight in gold. Also for nasal catarrh, sore throat, inflamed eyes, cuts and wounds. All druggists, 25 and 50 cents a box. Trial box and testimony of 31 women free on request.

This Girl Recovered from Consumption

The makers of Eckman's Alterative, which is doing so much good for Consumptives, are continually in receipt of really wonderful reports of cures brought about solely through the use of this medicine. These reports are always at the command of anyone interested, and many of the writers in their gratitude have suggested that like sufferers write direct and learn what it did for them. Here is one specimen:

421 Second Ave., Aurora, Ill.

"Gentlemen: Pardon me for not writing sooner, but I wanted to see if I would stay cured. I can now truthfully say I am perfectly well. Never felt better in all my life. I wish to express my heartfelt thanks. I never have any pain, no cough, no night sweats, no hay-fever. Since a child of two years I have been ailing with lung trouble, which grew worse as I grew older. At the age of fourteen the doctor said if I could not be sent South, I would surely die of Consumption. Every winter I would be sure to have either Bronchitis, Pleurisy, or Pneumonia. I had Typhoid-Pneumonia one time. I had catarrh of the stomach and bowels and had Hay Fever for the last few years; but have not anything of the kind this year.

"I will answer all letters sent to me, asking a history of my case, from any one suffering from lung trouble."

"I remain with many thanks to you, your grateful friend."

(Signed Affidavit) ETTA PLATH.

Three years later reports still well.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and

Twenty-five years ago, when there was not much being said or done publicly in regard to the social evil, Mr. Marron started a crusade against this evil in Pitsburg, which had grown to almost intolerable conditions. Through his efforts in this direction he secured the indictment of the director of public safety, the superintendent of police and the inspector of the "Tenderloin" or "Red Light" district, for malfeasance in office by public toleration of prostitution in Pittsburg. These cases were eventually nol prossed on promise to enforce the law.

Later in another civic movement Mr. Marron prosecuted and convicted the superintendent of police of Allegheny for extortion in the protection of prostitution in Allegheny. He also convicted the commissioner of highways for the same crime and revoked the license of the "official bottler," who had the privilege of furnishing liquor to the disreputable houses. Though his prosecutions a number of persons were convicted of leasing property for immoral purposes, as well as several members of council for aiding and abetting prostitution and gambling. In one day he closed 110 brothels under threat of prosecution. Through his efforts largely, a number of streets and sections in Allegheny devoted to prostitution for many years were cleaned up.

In the celebrated bribery case of the Tube City Railroad company which sought a franchise into Pitts- Mr. Marron prosecuted and convicted a member of council for soliciting a bribe, and he also convicted the president of the road for paying a brige and killed the franchise ordinauce which was sought. Another of his celebrated cases was his conviction of "Diamond Bill," a notorious pool room keeper, for enticing a minor for immoral purpose. He also secured another conviction for conspiracy and embracery in an attempt to influence jurors in the "Diamond Bill" case.

Other famous cases of Mr. Marron were his defense and acquittal of the proprietor of the periodical, Justice from the charge of libel in exposing abominable crimes in the Western Penitentiary, his suit against the warden of the Allegheny county jail on a charge of compelling an inmate to attend religious worship in violation of the Bill of Rights and his prosecution which stopped the sale of a foregn newspaper which was libelling religion.

For 40 years Mr. Marron has been a member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society and a member for years of the National Associated Charities. He is also one of the organizers of the National Conference of Catholic Charities and of the Conference of the diocese of Pittsburg.
